Service Stream

This training covers the skills and knowledge required to issue a Service Stream Excavation, Drilling and Penetration permit. It covers an understanding of the permit system and the limitations of the permit. Knowing the situations when a Permit is required, is one of the key outcomes we deliver.

EDP PERMIT REQUESTER TRAINER

Encouraging good health and safety practices helps promote a positive safety culture throughout organisations, creating a safe working environment and protecting people, property and reputation.

The Work Health and Safety Act 2011 requires employers to provide systems of work that are "safe and without risks to health". Making sure your employees can implement permit to work systems will ensure you are fulfilling your legal duties as an employer.

693,000 injuries occurred at work during 2019. Training your staff to correctly use a permit to work system will help reduce the likelihood of accidents and incidents by defining the hazards and control measures of high-risk tasks.
